Hi!

Honestly not entirely sure how to start this, it's been awhile since I've posted something like this publicly, and ideally it will be the last time any of you ever hear from "Murm" again.

If you're wondering what happened to me or where I've been, hoo boy let me tell ya!

Relevant screenshots will be provided when necessary. Please also read the document from my friend GalaxAi, as it also contains evidence of Zola grooming them, as well as Taco's unwillingness to implicate Angel in a similar way to myself: https://docs.google.com/document/d/1fuKG40TLvxiobfL4hbAJ5daa1Jd8lLa4WYNWpoS4H8s/edit?tab=t.0

Last year, around July 2023, I was friends with Zola. Some of you may know her as kittydog or kittydogcrystal. Our friendship up to that point had lasted about 5-6 years. Unfortunately, her boyfriend at the time, Hermo, had been fed false narratives about a supposed "nsfw discord server" I had run in 2018 with minors. This allegation is completely false, and I approached the supposed "victims" of this server (at least the ones they named not part of their little circle) and they vouched for me immediately. However, when Hermo shared this allegation to Zola, Zola had decided to come forward with what is frankly the biggest mistake I ever made during my time online.

Near the beginning of our friendship, when I was 20 and Zola was 16, we dated. Zola drew quite a bit of nsfw artwork of us during the relationship. To this day I look back at these actions with disgust. It was a major regret and something I spent the next 5 years trying to solve.

I will absolutely admit that what happened was bad. It was stupid. I absolutely should have known better.

However, the details left out of this story (which became the catalyst for future "investigations") do put this in a different light. Zola had later revealed (to the evidence collectors) that she had privately realized our relationship was extremely bad and toxic, but the only person she ever acknowledged this to at the time was herself, in a private server in a channel I never saw. I genuinely did not realize at the time (or was in denial about) how bad things truly were, and she absolutely took advantage of that. I personally feel a case could be made that she knowingly manipulated me into the relationship.

Should I have stopped things? Absolutely. I absolutely should have known better. I take full responsibility for this mistake and have grown and learned from it.

Unfortunately, 5 years after the relationship, Zola came forward to some of her friends and explained my past actions from her perspective. Understandably, they believed her framing of things outright and decided to "collect evidence" on me.

This collection of evidence leads us to my next "victim", taco (aka taco10lex or whatever they go by now). Taco was a very interesting individual. He was the type of person to intentionally invade NSFW spaces as a minor, hell he even subscribed to Dexechii's NSFW patreon at 17, and Hermo had to ensure he couldn't remain in that server. (I don’t see a reason to provide evidence of this, as it would be pointless for either of you to deny that fact.) Taco and I had known each other for a few years at this point, and he felt it was an okay thing to start bringing up nsfw subject matter around me, as an adult. This is a much more recent event, occurring in 2023. Now, knowing he was a minor, I would do my best to not directly engage with his attempts to pressure information out of me. A frequent tactic of mine would be to remind him he wasn't 18 yet, and to save these subjects for when he was. I will admit, sometimes I absolutely overshared and later regretted it.

Otherwise I'd rather ask myself

Should I have been more hard-line and strict with this? Yes absolutely. When I had realized I had crossed a line I had tried to apologize to taco, but this was when the investigation was already underway, and he was dead-set on taking me down. When I apologized to him for the overstep, he attempted to outright gaslight me, claiming I had done nsfw things in a call with him before his 18th birthday. This is an outright lie, but due to trauma I have genuinely had a very fuzzy memory throughout major stretches of my life, so for a few weeks I was genuinely terrified that I truly HAD done that, and had just forgotten. Later on, after I had abandoned my accounts and left, I had finally been sent taco's evidence of that call. It was a screenshot of a call happening and a dumb coomer gif from him after. (That exact screenshot with their “context” is below) To call that conclusive or damning is laughable.

i think this the call we had "esex" where they masterbating in the call with me that esex was crazyyy

I AM HORNY

i didnt do it btw
i was just there and trying to sound hot saying lewd shit to them

However, there are some other issues with these claims that need addressing. Firstly, throughout taco's time as a 17-year old, I was not the only person he would behave inappropriately towards. There was another person, who goes by Angelmau5, he would try to be lewd with. Angel was 22. For taco to pull this "evidence" of him pressuring me and me deflecting and not to denounce Angel, who he is still friends with, illuminates his true intentions here. If what I did with taco truly was grooming (which I don't really believe) then the fact that he is still close with Angel is extremely suspect, if not wholly inappropriate. (See GalaxAi's document for evidence)

Unfortunately, at this point, the "evidence collection" had already started to take a very dark turn. While their claims against me have already started to become supplemented with lies, they saw fit to outright dox me. They obtained my full name, home address, my mother's full name, her workplace address, and saw fit to send a letter to both addresses. These letters were addressed to my mother, contained my full name and face, and as many screenshots of both my mistake from 5 years prior, as well as out of context screenshots of taco being sexual towards me. Inside these letters were threats to me, my family, and my neighbors. They called me a pedophile and suggested my mother turn me into the police. Obviously, my family did not take this lightly. If further material arrives at either address we will not hesitate to go directly to the authorities.

Evidence of the group chat making fun of my house, and claiming I’m rich with 0 real basis:

(Remember, nice house =/= stable finances.)

I will not pretend there are no other allegations made during this collection. However, a good majority of them, as far as I can see, have no basis in reality or evidence associated. I'm not interested in debating any baseless claim these creeps and stalkers have decided to add to the pile.

I was instructed, in no uncertain terms, that I am to leave the internet and never return. Knowing the kinds of information they have on me, and the narrative of me being a "serial groomer" they have constructed, I had no choice but to comply. At this point I was fully aware they had my dox, and I did not want to bring risk to my family or friends.

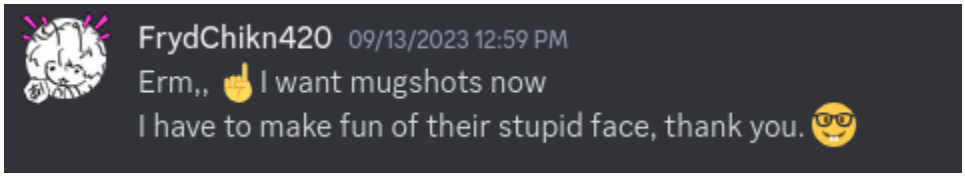
Unfortunately, in my absence, it seems a few people have decided that their narrative of me was strong enough to continue spreading it privately. While I genuinely have no intention to return to the internet, I also do not appreciate my reputation being utterly obliterated, with any slight challenge to their narrative being met with "you must believe victims" or something of the like. I made mistakes. I am not claiming I am a saint, and I am not shrugging off responsibility for my actions. However, it seems like quite the double standard for the person who started all this and directly encouraged my doxxing to face 0 consequences, have a platform, and be content with all this being swept under the rug.

I may be no saint, but neither are any of you. Hermo, Zola, Taco, Fryd. I know of the others in the groupchat too, don't get me wrong. But you four were the ringleaders as far as I am concerned.

Here are some other details that I couldn't fit in the main explanation, but bear mentioning.

I had known Zola for 5 years before we parted ways. She can deflect as much criticism as she wants, and she'll probably always get to maintain her audience because she's good at crisis control. It's a real shame she also groomed 12 year olds at 16, around the same time she had gotten into a relationship with me. (see GalaxAi's document for evidence).

Fryd is so insistent I victimized him when I was the one who went after the actual groomer who vore roleplayed with him at 14. Sure, I said something nsfw-leaning after you turned 18, that's true. But I never groomed you. I never manipulated you. Frankly for you to cry foul and play victim this past year, continuing to vague-post about me on twitter after I have entirely stepped back and left is toxic as hell. Also patiently waiting for my mugshot to drop so you could make shitposts about it is pretty gross in general.



Though, to be fair, you weren't the only one hoping for it.

When I initially parted ways with both Zola and Fryd, I had apologized to both of them directly for what I had done. I had wished them the both well, and genuinely meant it. I wanted them to succeed in their lives, despite not thinking the best of me. These are people I truly cared about back then, and I didn't want my dumb mistake to hold them back. However, after seeing how they've changed and grown, at this point I just hope they'll realize their own mistakes, as I have mine.

Another former friend of mine, who went by Kainoa/Calc, claimed I talked to him about vore at 17. He provided 0 screenshots or evidence. He shortly after (as far as I can tell) has left the internet. I don't even like vore, and never have. (The closest thing he ever provided as “evidence” is listed below.)

If, at this point, you truly see me as some kind of irredeemable monster, some "master manipulator" or anything in-between, feel free to keep holding onto that belief, because it's clear to me that I will never change your mind. I was a flawed person sure, but I was never some evil mastermind. Anyone who knows me, and I mean REALLY knows me, should be very, very aware of that.

At the end of the day, I'm not posting this so I can make some grand comeback. I've made my mistakes. I'm only posting this because I'm tired of living my life in the fear that one of these terminally-online weirdos will end up with their narrative prevailing with 0 pushback until the end of time, potentially ruining anything i do in the future. I am going to move forward and live my life, and while I learn from my mistakes and improve myself as a person, these people can rot away online typing about how horrible I am to the end of time. I've learned. Maybe some day they will too. I won't be around to see it either way.

I'm not interested in debate, I'm not interested in argument. These people have threatened my life. I have no reason to negotiate with them.

Some extra screenshots that I feel bear mentioning - These all came from their little group chat they used to “collect evidence”:

valid, thats my two cents and I apologize for jumping the boat

(While Fryd and Taco did give pushback, this mentality absolutely drove how they went about informing others of what I supposedly had done)

Hope that answers where I've been! Honestly despite these people up-ending my online life, I've been doing pretty okay. I've moved on for the most part and I'm happy where I am.
To those uninvolved, who had no idea where I vanished off to, I genuinely hope this clears up my side of the absolute hell these people put me through.
To those who saw the brunt of my past mistakes and chose to come from a place of understanding or forgiveness anyway, I will be forever grateful.
To those who look at everything I say and everything I do as an attempt at manipulation, I hope you learn that all your hatred and paranoia does is harm people. Not just me, but everyone around you, and as a result I do, genuinely hope you grow and learn to untwist your perspective.
And lastly, to those who stayed friends with me without realizing the extent of my previous mistakes, and cannot accept what I have done. I apologize for my past mistakes, and wish you the best. I know I did genuinely slip up in some of these cases. I know some will never truly forgive me for those mistakes, and I've made peace with that. Thank you for hearing me out.

One last thing I feel is important to say. Having gone through my entire life being up-ended like this has drastically altered my view on internet vigilantism, or whatever you wanna call online justice. It's pointless. All it does it hurt, and divide, and intimidate. I used to be a firm believer in this sort of justice, but at this point, I've seen the damage it can do, both first and second-hand.

Finally, here are some questions to ponder:

- If Zola was so convinced I was a true groomer and abused her, why did she not call me out and stay friends with me for the following 5 years, only cutting me off when others pressured her?
- If Taco is so certain I groomed him, why is he not treating Angel in a similar way, when Angel's actions were much more blatant?
- If Fryd is so convinced he's a victim now, why did he not claim to be when I tried to apologize to him? (Shown below this section, my apology was specifically with regards to my previous relationship with Zola)
- Why is Zola so keen on keeping all of this quiet? Why did she ensure none of these allegations would reach the public?
- Why dox me and threaten my family, but not contact the police? Why threaten me at all if they could've made a much bigger impact by having me arrested?

I can't really forgive you because I don't really feel like I'm a victim. I don't feel I'm warranted an apology.
Even if I was, you are right, I wouldn't really be able to forgive you. Not being forgivable doesn't mean I can't continue our friendship as I'm sure is obviously.
I don't really know how to react or what to say. My view on you has been tainted, but I don't think that means things will always be bad or anything. Idk (edited)

I hope you know that.
I haven't been that person for years

I'm honestly extremely sick and tired of hiding, being forced to stay quiet myself, put in a position where I cannot stand up for myself lest I risk my family's safety.

If this really wasn't internet drama and is a "super serious situation" like these people have claimed, this song and dance would never have been needed. I would've been arrested and that would be that.

I will not be coming back to the wider internet.
I will not be responding to any messages sent to the accounts this was posted on.
Thanks for Understanding,
-Murm

P.S. I do realize how truly hateful and reactionary the internet has a whole has become, and I know full well the release of this document will result in terminally-online people trying to harass me further. I have made peace with this. I know Zola will respond to this claiming she's changed, and if she truly has I applaud that. However, I was not granted that same mercy, and do not appreciate the double-standard.

P.P.S. For clarification, as I feel it's worth mentioning. My old, now defunct website, murm.gay, was pointed to an FBI-owned server with a "this site has been seized" message after I had gone dark. This was to throw off the people "investigating" me, and to let me live my life without them trying to stalk me. It only worked temporarily. I do apologize for the confusion this may have caused.

P.P.P.S. One last clarification, a lot of phrasing in this document describes my relationship with Zola as having happened 5 years ago, that is because it was 5 years ago during the events of the dox, which happened last year. So as of 2024 it is 6 years ago.

Oct 17 2024 Update

this the convo im talking about btw

Unfortunately, during my discussion with Taco, it seems Fryd took a different approach, misrepresenting what I have put in this document to claim I am, myself, “playing victim”.
I was fully expecting this method of them trying to “debunk” what I have said.
I will be blunt here. The letter sent to my house was addressed to my mother, not to me. It contained vague, threatening language. I no longer have a copy of this letter. However, for Fryd to sit there and claim it wasn’t a death threat is extremely telling. I am not a victim, I hurt people. I acknowledge that. That doesn’t make threats to my family justified.

With regards to Zola, I understand most of her grooming of younger children happened when she herself was a child. To be completely honest, I don’t think that’s an excuse (despite how much Fryd has claimed otherwise). There were many, many different events leading up to my own mistakes that damaged me too. I was a very damaged human being. I still owned up to my mistakes. I still admit what happened was wrong. For Zola to be granted forgiveness because she was younger than when I made my mistakes completely disregards any possible life experiences I may have had that could have denied me the maturity and growth I needed to avoid my mistake in the first place. What I did was fucked up, it was wrong. But for Zola to escape accountability and for me to be doxxed and threatened is absolutely a double-standard.

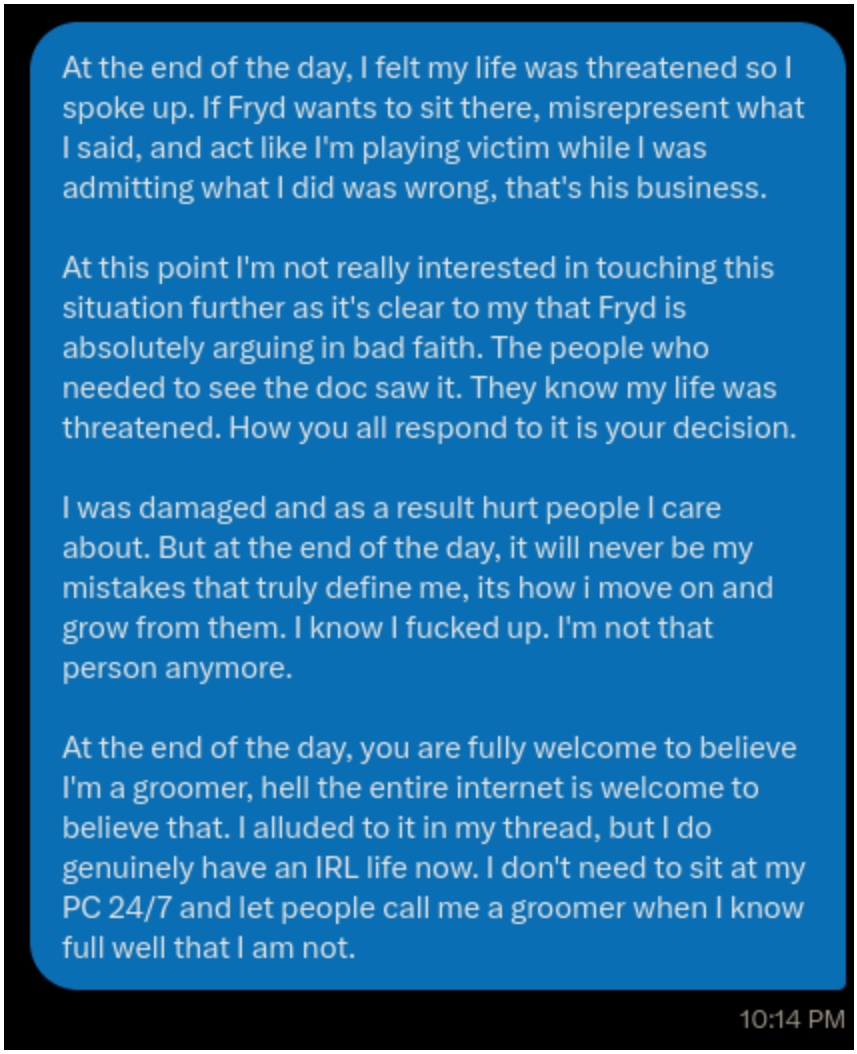
Age alone is not enough to impart the experience required to not do stupid shit.

I know GalaxAi is further posting about previous mistakes Zola has made. I will be keeping my involvement in that minimal, but I will link the details here.
https://x.com/GalaxxAi/status/1847100699902894443

And remember, instead of actually reporting this situation to law enforcement. They decided to send letters to my mother. If these people are so convinced I'm a groomer and a threat to children, tell the cops. (Tell them about Zola too while you're at it)

That's all I'm going to say. At this point, I fully expect the people who doxxed me to try and gather as much evidence as possible, try to find more screenshots, whatever. Maybe they'll make a doc about me, I don't know. Frankly I don't care. I made my mistakes, I grew from them. I'm going to walk away with this knowing that if anyone involved tries to use my IRL information against me, People will know it was them.

I will end this document with another screenshot of something I said to Taco during our conversation.



At the end of the day, I felt my life was threatened so I spoke up. If Fryd wants to sit there, misrepresent what I said, and act like I'm playing victim while I was admitting what I did was wrong, that's his business.
At this point I'm not really interested in touching this situation further as it's clear to my that Fryd is absolutely arguing in bad faith. The people who needed to see the doc saw it. They know my life was threatened. How you all respond to it is your decision.
I was damaged and as a result hurt people I care about. But at the end of the day, it will never be my mistakes that truly define me, its how i move on and grow from them. I know I fucked up. I'm not that person anymore.
At the end of the day, you are fully welcome to believe I'm a groomer, hell the entire internet is welcome to believe that. I alluded to it in my thread, but I do genuinely have an IRL life now. I don't need to sit at my PC 24/7 and let people call me a groomer when I know full well that I am not.
10:14 PM

Do not expect further updates on my twitter or to this document unless my physical safety is further threatened.
